The said action is brought to recover the judgment and decree of the Court dissolving the bonds of matrimony heretofore and now existing between you and this plaintiff upon the grounds of desertion and failure to provide plaintiff the common necessities of life, though abundantly able to do so, all of which will more fully appear from the complaint which is on file in the office of the Clerk of said Court at Reno, in said county, and to which you are especially referred. And you are further notified, that if you fail to appear and answer said complaint, the said plaintiff will apply to the Court for the relief demanded. In testimony whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and affixed the seal of said Court this 3d day of March A. D. 1890.

BREVITIES.

Attorney General Alexander is in town.

The gentle zephyr was around town yesterday.

Read the JOURNAL for all the latest telegraphic news.

Trennor Coffin came down from the Capital last evening.

Remember Mr. Reigelhuth's social dance in Armory Hall to-night.

To-day is the regular monthly meeting day of the State Board of Trade.

Judge Belknap and wife, of Carson, were passengers for the Bay last night.

The State Board of Agriculture purpose having a meeting at 1 p. m. this afternoon.

M. H. Sunderland, the Humboldt mining man, will return to Rye Patch this morning.

It is nearly time the sprinkling cart was brought out. The dust is getting a little frisky.

The Highland ditch is being cleaned out, and otherwise being put in better condition.

Travelers over the stage road from Ligan to Susanville say the road is good, and beginning to get dusty.

The Con. Cal. & Va. Company disbursed $54,000 to shareholders Thursday on account of the April dividend.

The change in the Presidency of the Southern Pacific Railroad system is not received with much favor in California.

Regent Fish and Secretary Taylor, of the University, go below to-night to buy the furniture for the new University building.

J. S. Shoemaker & Co., have dissolved partnership, the junior member, W. W. Campbell, retiring from the firm. The business will be continued by J. S. Shoemaker and C. B. Rath.

The High School Piano Fund must have increased somewhat last evening, as Armory Hall was well filled. The programme was rendered as published, after which a large portion of the audience stayed and enjoyed the dance.

The Advocate says Wm. McClellan returned to Susanville from his trip to Virginia City last Thursday. He disposed of all his apples at $1 75 a box, and contracted to furnish his entire crop this season at $1 a box at the orchard. He expects to have from 5,000 to 7,000 boxes.

Booming.

The Silver State says the Humboldt is on the rampage. It is now bank full and running over. The bottom lands are being submerged and a rifle is the only indication of a dam in many places. The weather has been cool lately or the water would doubtless be much higher.

Slight Loss.

A letter from the northern country brings the good news that the losses in cattle are not anywhere near as great as reported during the winter, and that Mapes, McConaughy and Ayres & Poor will not sustain a loss to exceed fifteen per cent.

Buying Sheep.

John Fleming, a sheep buyer from Nebraska, is in Nevada buying sheep. He has purchased about 21,000 head of sheep in Washoe, Churchill and Humboldt counties, and will drive them east to Nebraska and fatten them for the Chicago market.

Heavy Loss

George Watt, of Lander county, informs the Reveille that he lost by last winter's snow fully $80,000 in cattle, sheep and horses.

FROM OREGON.

Interesting Letter from Portland, Oregon, Now the Mecca for Fortune Hunters.

There is but little doubt but Oregon is bound to put on new life. The Carson Tribune has been permitted to take the following extracts from a private letter written from Portland by a Carson boy now traveling in that State:

"Portland will be the Chicago of the Pacific Coast, and if I had $2,000 I would invest it all in city lots here. The surrounding country possesses wonderful resources. 'Standing on the principal street of the city and looking north and east you can see the pine forests about three miles off.

"There are three great railroads centering here, the Union Pacific having just now gained an entrance to the city by purchasing the Oregon Short Line. Then the great Northern Pacific connects this place with the cities on the Sound, and on July 1st there will be put on a line of steamers to Japan and thus compete for the tea and rice trade with the Southern Pacific Company.

"The Southern Pacific Company, or the Oregon and California, is a big road besides four local roads.

"So you see this is a great railroad center and bound to be a large city.

"At present Oregon seems about 40 years behind the age, but the boom is coming and she will be a daisy when she gets here.

"This valley, the Willamette, is larger and finer than the Sacramento valley.

"There are four wholesale grocery houses here and two coffee and spice mills, and yet San Francisco men do all the retail business of Portland. This shows how slow they are, as she has two direct railroad lines, while San Francisco has but one.

"The California men will soon be here and they are the boys to move things.

"The Republican party is in a big fight among themselves and will no doubt defeat Mitchell for the United States Senate."

AT THE POTOSI.

Winze Steadily Improving—Continued Interest in the Stock.

The Enterprise says.

The excitement in stocks yesterday was warmer than on any other day since the inauguration of the boom. The principal point of interest seemed to be centered in a south drift from the Chollar shaft on the 1300 level of Potosi. Pointers about this work were eagerly sought, but there were none to be had.

The winze being sunk in the ledge below the 930 level of Potosi, 400 feet south of the Chollar shaft, is down about 40 feet, and is in a two-foot vein of ore that will average $40 a ton, some inches of which will go over $200 a ton.

For the purpose of speculation in the stock this is sufficient. It is now known that there is rich ore in that seam, and speculators are willing to put up their money that the seam will open out into a large body of ore, and if the body of ore is of the same grade they will make big money on their investments. That is the only question. It may open out into comparatively barren quartz, or it may open into ore as good as the two-foot vein itself.

Between the surface and the water level, a distance of 1,900 feet, there is ample room—virgin ground—for the discovery of two large bodies of ore—one above the 930 level and one below—and having its narrowest part in the neighborhood of the 930 level. No work has been done in this part of the mine above the 2200 level, where, we understand, crosscuts have been run to the west through a large body of quartz that was not considered of sufficient high grade at that time—nearly 18 years ago—to pay for extraction and milling. It was the same with the big bonanza. At the depth of 2,200 feet, the ore was much poorer than it was on the 1600 level. So with the Potosi ore find, between the 930 level, and this large body of low grade quartz on the 2200, the precipitation of the precious metals may have occurred, in which event a strike of the utmost importance to this mining community will be the result.

Mail Contract.

Johnny Bush, who is in Lakeview Oregon, gives the Examiner the following information in regard to mail route lettings: The route from Ligan to Fort Bidwell to Pease & Sexton, Alturas to Lakeview, same firm. Reno to Buffalo, same. Alturas to Cedarville, H. Wadsworth. Redding to Bieber, same. Bieber to Alturas, C. C. McCoy. Ligan to Susanville, H. Laggan. Susanville to Alturas, same. Whole number of contracts let, 4,000. Whole number of bids put in 85,500. Whole number of contracts let to non-residents, 1,000. Number awarded to Pease & Sexton, 116.

Public Improvements.

The Reno Water, Land and Light Co. is putting down new water and gas mains in many portions of town. The new company has expended nearly all of its receipts in improvements and extensions to its works.

Ranch Transfer.

Geo. Shaefer, of Truckee, has purchased the Bagley 40-acre farm, near the race track, paying therefor $7,000.

Justice Comes High.

At the commencement of the present term of the Supreme Court there was but one case on the calendar.

Go to Lange & Schmitt for garden hose, garden tools, and agate ware. Largest stock in the city.

The Lassen Advocate says.

With Honey Lake apples at $1 75 a box, and Honey Lake potatoes at three cents a pound, and Honey Lake hay at $15 a ton, the outlook for our produce seems to be rather encouraging. Situated as we are, just on the edge of the great mining region of Nevada, with no other agricultural country between us and Salt Lake, a distance of nearly a thousand miles, the fear that when our great valley becomes more thickly populated we will suffer from overproduction, looks very vague indeed. As it is, we raise barely enough for home consumption. There are no apples, no potatoes, and no hay in the market, and what is stranger yet, no lumber. If we had 25,000 population in Honey Lake valley to-day, instead of 2,500, every business man and every rancher in our community would profit by it.

The Truckee river is booming.

BURIAL OF THE BOOTS.

SOME SUPERSTITIONS ABOUT DEAD MEN'S SHOES.

Where a Funeral Is Called a Dead Shoe. Pretty Little Stories in Which Shoes Are Prominent Characters—How the Queen Moved the Farmer.

The superstition of the burial of the boots probably survives in England. It is about seventeen years since the writer heard from an old gypsy that when another gypsy was "puvado," or "earthed," a very good pair of boots was placed by him in the grave. The reason was not given; perhaps it was not known. These customs often survive after the cause is forgotten, simply from some feeling that good or bad luck attends their observance or the neglect of it.

Many years since a writer in an article on shoes in The English Magazine stated that "according to an Aryan tradition, the greater part of the way from the land of the living to that of death lay through morasses and vast moors overgrown with ferns and thorns. That the dead might not pass over them barefoot, a pair of shoes was laid with them in the grave."

The shoe was of old in many countries a symbol of life, liberty, or entire personal control. In both we are told that "it was the custom in Israel concerning changing, that a man plucked off his shoe and delivered it to his neighbor." So the bride, who was originally a slave, transferred herself by the symbol of the shoe.

When the Emperor Vladimir made proposals of marriage to the daughter of Ragnald, she replied scornfully that she would not take off her shoes to the son of a slave. Gregory of Tours, in speaking of weddings, says: "The bridegroom, having given a ring to the bride, presents her with a shoe."

A CURIOUS CUSTOM.

As regards the Scandinavian hel-shoe, or hell-shoe, Kelley, in his "Indo-European Folk Lore," tells us that a funeral is still called a dead shoe in the Humber district; and the writer already cited adds that in a MS. of the Cotton library, containing an account of Cleveland in Yorkshire in the reign of Queen Elizabeth, there is a passage which illustrates this curious custom. It was quoted by Sir Walter Scott in the notes to "Minstrelsy of the Scottish Border," and runs thus: "When any dieth certain women sing a song to the dead bodie, reciting the journey that the party deceased must go; and they are of beliefs that once in their lives it is good to give a pair of new shoes to a poor man; forasmuch as before this life they are to pass barefoote through a great lande, full of thorns and furzen—excepte by the merite of the almes aforesaid they have redeemed the forterye—for at the edge of the lande an oulde man shall meet them with the same shoes that were given by the parties when he was lying, and after he hath shode them dismiseth them to go through thicke and thin without scratch or scalle."

This must be a very agreeable reflection to all gentlemen who have bestowed their old boots on waters, or ladies who have in like fashion gifted their maids. To be sure, the legend specifies new shoes; but surely a pair of thirty shilling boots only half worn count for as much as a new pair of half a sovereign chaussons. However, if one is to go "through thicke and thin without scratch or scalle," it may be just as well to be on the safe side, and give a good new extra stout pair to the gardener for Christmas. For truly the superstitions are strange things, and no one knows what may be in them! There are one or two quaint shoe stories of the olden time which may be of value to the collector.

CUPID IN SHOES.

It befel once in the beginnings of Bohemia that, according to Schafarik ("Slawische Alterthümer," II., p. 422), Labussa, queen of that land, found herself compelled by her council to wed. And the wise men, being consulted, declared that he who was to marry the queen would be found by her favorite horse, who would lead the way till he found a man eating from an iron table, and kneel to him. So the horse went on, and unto a field where a man sat eating a peasant's dinner from a plowshare. This was the farmer Prschemischl. So they covered him with the royal robes and led him to the queen expectant. But ere going he took his shoes of willow wood and placed them in his bosom, and kept them to remind him ever after of his low origin.

It will, of course, at once strike the reader, as it has the learned, that this is a story that would naturally originate in any country where there are iron plowshares, horses, queens and wooden shoes; and, as Schafarik shrewdly suggests, that it was all "a put up job," since, of course, Prschemischl was already a lover of the queen, the horse was trained to find him and to kneel before him, and, finally, that the plowshare and wooden shoes were the prepared properties of the little drama. The Seven-League boots and the shoes of Peter Schlemihl, which take one over the world at will, have a variation in a pair recorded in another tale.

There was a beautiful and extremely proud damsel, who refused a young man with every conceivable aggravation of the offence, informing him that when she ran after him, and not before, that he might hope to marry her; and at the same time meeting a poor old woman who begged her for a pair of old shoes. To which the proud princess replied: "Shoes here, shoes there; Give me a couple, I'll give thee a pair."

To which the old woman, who was a witch, grimly uttered, "I'll give thee a pair which"—The rest of the expression was really too unamiable to repeat. Well, the youth and the witch met, and going to the lady's shoemaker, "made him make" a superbly elegant pair of shoes, which were sent to the damsel as a gift. Such a gift! No sooner were they put on than off they started, carrying the princess, malgré elle, over hill and dale. By and by she saw that a man—the man, of course, whom she had refused—was in advance of her. As in the song of the "Cork Leg," "the shoes never stopped, but kept on the pace." And the young man led her to a lonely castle and reasoned with her. And as she had promised to marry him should she ever run after him, and as she had pursued him a whole day, she kept her word. The shoes she sent to the witch filled with gold, and they were wedded, and all went as merry as a thousand grigs in a duck pond.—St. James Gazette.

A Sure Test.

Noted Detective (at friend's house)—This guest of yours, who, you say, came to you with such flattering letters of introduction, is an impostor.

Friend—Impossible! He is one of the most cultured gentlemen I ever met.

"True; but all the same, he is not what he pretends to be. He claims to be a man of family, a householder, and in business in a small town."

"Yes. Is he not?"

"No, he does not live in any home of his own; he is used to hotels and boarding houses."

"How do you know?"

"Before beginning a meal he wipes his plate off with his napkin."—New York Weekly.

THE MOST LOVELY PORTION OF RENO.

Facing the Truckee—The Aristocratic Avenue—Riverside Driveway—Splendid Sewerage—Healthy Location and Safe From Fire.

The proprietor is now ready to receive proposals for lots in Powning's Addition. The map gives a good idea of the tract, which is situated between the Central Pacific Railroad and the Truckee River, and commences on the west at a point three blocks distant from Virginia Street, making it the most central and convenient of any portion of the rapidly growing town of Reno. Unlike any other part of the town this Addition faces the beautiful Truckee River and Riverside Avenue is certain to become the fashionable driveway of the country. The streets are 80 feet wide, while Riverside and Keystone Avenues are intended to be 100 feet in width. All alleys are 20 feet wide. The soil is a rich gravelly loam, and susceptible of the highest state of cultivation. Being situated as it is it is more safe from fire than any other section. The regular lots are 50x140 feet. The sewerage is perfect.

Before Buying Elsewhere Parties will do Well to Look at These Lots.

RENO

Reno's geographical position is excellent. It is on the line of the Central Pacific Railroad, only 154 miles from Sacramento, and 244 miles from San Francisco. It is the terminus of the Virginia and Truckee Railroad running south, and of the Nevada and California Railroad running north. It has two Flouring Mills, Planing Mills, three Nurseries, a Soap Factory, Reduction Works, and other industries. A great Woolen Mill and a Sash, Door, Blind and Box Factory, are about to be established.

Reno has the Bank of Nevada with $300,000 capital, and the First National Bank with $200,000 capital. It has two fine papers in the DAILY and WEEKLY NEVADA STATE JOURNAL and the Daily and Weekly Gazette.

Reno is the natural home of the Alfalfa, and therefore the great cattle headquarters of the State. Here are fed the prime beef for the California market. Reno potatoes are the best in the world, and she also excels in Strawberries and the small fruits. Reno Wheat took the first prize at the great New Orleans Exposition.

The State Fair is always held at Reno. Reno is the County Seat of Washoe County, the wealthiest county in Nevada.

New buildings are occupied as fast as erected. Reno has advantages which no other town can equal. The climate is mild and genial in Winter, and even and healthful in Summer. There are no excessively heated or severely cold terms, and while the days may be warm in Summer the nights are deliciously cool; in Winter sleigh-riding is the exception and not the rule.

Facilities for irrigating surpass any in the State and there is no failure of crops. Reno has Churches of all denominations, Bishop Whitaker's School for Girls, Mt. St. Mary's Academy, the State University, and splendid Public Schools.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

Census Taking—Decision of the Court of Claims on the Silect Defalcation—Speaker Reed as a Presidential Candidate.

[From our regular Correspondent.]

WASHINGTON, April 4, 1890.

In less than two months the work of taking the census of the population of the country will begin. Census Superintendent Porter is just now engaged in looking over the sub-divisions of the districts made by the Supervisors of the census. He proposes to have the census taken promptly, and to secure that he will have small districts and plenty of enumerators. Under the law enumeration is to begin on the first Monday in June, 1890, and each of the 40,000 or more enumerators will be required to prosecute the work each day and make prompt returns to the Supervisor. The entire work of enumeration is to be completed on or before the first day of July. All this army of men that are to begin their house to house visitation from one end of the country to the other have to be provided with the necessary blanks so that the returns will be uniform. The quantity of stationery is enormous. The population schedules alone amount to 20,000,000 sheets, and some idea can be obtained of what this number means when it is stated that 1,920 sheets weigh forty pounds and the entire amount weighs some 208 tons. It is estimated that it will require 4,500 boxes, weighing when packed 200 pounds, to supply the different districts with the schedules. The portfolios which will be used by the enumerators, the envelopes, blanks, etc., are all in readiness to be sent out when the time comes. Superintendent Porter says that he believes the arrangements are now in good shape and he sees no reason why rapid and efficient work should not be done in taking the census. He proposes to be equally as prompt in the compilation of the returns and will furnish the results of the census to the public at the earliest practicable moment.

The decision of the Court of Claims, speaking through Judge Davis, gives great satisfaction to those members of the House of Representatives who are affected by the Silect defalcation. Only the loss of the November salaries is covered by the Court's opinion, but this will probably be sufficient basis upon which to legislate an appropriation bill paying back the entire amount of salaries for the year actually stolen. The decision goes on the ground that the custom of the House and various acts of Congress, including one of June 22, 1882, and the appropriation measures, all tacitly recognize the Sergeant-at-Arms as a disbursing officer of the Government. Referring to the statute of 1882 the Court says that it refers to some officers not named but recognized as in existence, and as having power to disburse the money appropriated for members' salaries; that officer did in fact exist in the Sergeant-at-Arms. Whether at the outset he was legally authorized to perform the duties in fact imposed upon him becomes now unimportant, as the statute of 1882 contains a legislative declaration of the power assumed by Congress then to exist in this officer—a declaration sufficient to operate upon him in the future and to constitute him henceforth in law what he had been long in fact—not in law—a public agent charged with the duty of paying the salaries of members and delegates. The decision appears to remove all rational doubt as to the right of members to be repaid out of the Treasury.

The examination of the report of the Court of Inquiry in regard to the recent cruise of the United States steamship Enterprise has proved a greater task than it was first supposed to be. Judge Advocate General Remey and his assistants are still hard at work upon the report to be made to the Secretary, having labored upon it until midnight last night. Col. Remey remarked this morning that he was about half through his work on the case, and he immediately began work again. It is now thought to be pretty certain that Captain McCalla and Lieutenant Ingersoll will be court-martialed. The crew of the Enterprise will not be discharged until it has been decided whether or not there will be a trial.

"Unless something now unforeseen happens, Reed will gavel himself into the Presidential nomination in '92," said a New England Congressman. "By all odds he is the most conspicuous man in the Republican party to-day, and if the National Convention were to meet next July Reed would be nominated. What may happen in the interim before the convention nobody of course can tell, but at this time he stands squarely in the path that leads to the other end of the avenue. When this Congress adjourns his record as Speaker will stand without parallel. Mark the prediction," earnestly remarked the confident New Englander, "Tom Reed is the coming man."

Minister Reid has been kept very busy attending to social engagements since his arrival in Washington, and breakfast is the only meal that he has taken at the Normandie, where he has parlors. He was at the White House, early in the week, where he had a lengthy interview with the President, and subsequently Mr. and Mrs. Reid dined at the Executive Mansion. Nothing definite has been determined upon by Minister Reid regarding his return to New York and he may remain at the Capital for the rest of the week.

NAVAL REVIEW IN 1893.

A SLIGHT EARTHQUAKE SHOOK SHAKES UP DOVER, MAINE.

The Denver Smelters Issue a Circular In Favor of Free Mexican Lead Ores to the Miners.

The Senate.

Special to the JOURNAL.

WASHINGTON, April 11.—Consideration of the Montana election case was resumed, and as no Senator sought the floor, the year and days were ordered. On the first resolution a vote was about to be taken when Evans suggested that if no Senator on the other side desired to speak he would make a closing argument in support of the committee's report.

Morgan said that after hearing the Senator from New York, he might feel himself required to say something.

Evarts then proceeded to state in detail the facts and circumstances of the Montana election and to discuss the powers of the Territorial Canvassing Board, on which he said "no limitations were imposed by statute in words. By that he means," he said "its powers are unlimited within the sense that belongs to the phrase to which it was applied."

Evarts said the proposition on the Democratic side was that the Senate was to be a Canvassing Board higher than the Territorial Canvassing Board, while the proposition on the Republican side was that the Senate had no such power of revision. The latter, he said, was a proposition of the constitution, of safety of the Senate and of equality of the States.

Gray defended the Governor of Montana from criticism and asserted that the only direction given the janitor was a letter of instructions that he should admit every one who claimed to be a member of the House of Representatives.

Hear gave notice that on Monday he should ask the Senate to remain in session until the Montana case was disposed of.

Hawley from the Select Committee on quado-centennial celebration, reported back, with amendments the House bill for the World's Fair at Chicago, and said he hoped to have it passed Monday.

The Senate confirmed the following: Louis A. Grant, Assistant Secretary of War; Brigadier General Nelson A. Miles, Major General; Colonel B. H. Griess, as Brigadier General; Major T. H. Stanton, Deputy Paymaster General; J. H. Cissay, of Indiana, Indian Inspector; C. F. Turritt, Surveyor General of Nevada.

G. C. Thaxter has been confirmed as Receiver of Public Moneys at Carson, Nev. Adjourned.

A Monument to Virtue.

Special to the JOURNAL.

BELLEFOURTE, P., April 11.—The movement to erect at Kathlamet a monument to the memory of Clara Price, the heroic girl who sacrificed her life in protecting her virtue, is meeting with much popular favor, and it is expected that the required fund will be raised at an early day. The committee appointed to solicit subscriptions have embodied in their address to the public the remarks of Judge First, who, in sentencing the murderer, Alfred Andrews, to death, said: "She sacrificed her young life to protect her virtue. Her noble effort to protect her honor and purity ought to be written in granite above her grave. She died, not because she had to, but because she chose to. Had she yielded to your hellish purpose she might yet live; but, hard as her fate was, Clara chose the better part. A nobler act cannot be commemorated by us than the heroic martyrdom of this young girl for her honor."

A Leading Question.

Special to the JOURNAL.

DENVER, April 11.—A circular letter is being prepared by those opposed to placing a tariff upon Mexican lead ores, which will be sent to the miners of the entire country. In the circular it is shown that all ores sold on the public market for some time past have contained less than an average of five per cent lead. As it requires from two to three times this amount of lead to smelt the same amount of ore the circular puts the question as to where the deficit is to come from if Mexican fluxing ores are excluded by duty.

The Naval Review in 1893.

Special to the JOURNAL.

WASHINGTON, April 11.—Just before the Senate adjourned this afternoon Hawley reported the World's Fair bill with amendments by the committee. The President is empowered and directed to hold a naval review in New York harbor in April, 1893, and to extend to foreign nations an invitation to send ships of war to participate in the same. The President is further empowered to make arrangements for unveiling the statue of Christopher Columbus, at Washington, with appropriate ceremonies and invite attendance thereat of foreign representatives.

Cut in Second-Class Rates.

Special to the JOURNAL.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 11.—The local officials of the Burlington railroad to-day openly announced a rate of $35 from here to Chicago for second-class tickets. The agents of other roads doing business between here and Chicago immediately telegraphed East for permission to meet this cut.

UNITED AMERICA.

Work of the Congress at Washington—An Agreement on Important Subjects.

WASHINGTON, April 9.—The correspondence of the Chronicle was informed to-day, upon the very best possible authority, that the Pan-American Congress would adjourn sine die on Monday or Tuesday. Delegate Estee expects to start for home on Wednesday. Nearly all the important questions that were to have come before the Pan-Americans have been settled, with the exception of fixing upon an international monetary system definitely, but that will be adjusted within the next few days. The questions that have been settled relate to international law, patents and trade marks, monetary relations, uniform measures and weights and railroads.

Perhaps the report upon the last named subject attracted the most attention. It assumes the feasibility of an international line between North and South America, recommends the appointment of an international commission to agree upon the details, recommends subsidies from the various governments to be benefited, and assures freedom of traffic by the declaration that the line is to be forever neutral. Several companies have already been organized to carry out the suggestions of the Congress, and a bill for a Pan-American railway has been introduced in the House of Representatives.

The report of the Committee on Sanitary Regulations opposed the closing of ports and frontiers in times of epidemic; recommends that the principles adopted by the Lima Congress and the Rio Janeiro Sanitary Convention be made the basis of an international agreement in order that the conflict between the obligation to care for the public health and the principles of unrestricted commerce may not arise.

The Committee on Patents recommends a copyright treaty provision, which is, that an author shall enjoy in the contracting States the rights granted in the State in which the copyright was taken. A trade-mark treaty of the same nature has also been approved.

The recommendations of the Committee on Extradition amount practically to the codification and enlargement of the existing treaties with uniformity of practice.

The Committee on Steamship Communication recommends subsidies.

A man came along and jumped the claim and Melhir disappeared. His wife came here in search of him leaving three children alone on the ranch. She was taken ill here and remained at the hospital about a week. Returning to her cabin she found it in ruins and the children, one of whom was a girl of 12 years, disappeared without leaving a trace. The poor woman returned here and the grief has unsettled her reason. The authorities have taken hold of the case.

ARID LANDS.

Special to the JOURNAL.

The San Francisco Chronicle says: A long dispatch from Washington on the subject of arid lands and their irrigation indicates the existence of a concert of action against Major Powell, and it is not difficult to read between the lines closely enough to see that the attack proceeds from land speculators who have been thwarted in their plan of taking up all the reservoir sites and irrigable lands in order to sell them back to the Government at an enhanced price.

One of the charges made against Major Powell, for example, is that he insists upon the importance of topographical explorations and surveys before any definite steps are taken toward selecting reservoir sites and mapping out irrigation districts. Such an accusation should not only be denied by Major Powell, but should be put in evidence by him as proof of his knowledge of the subject. It would be just as reasonable to complain of an engineer who should urge a survey before building a railroad as to bring this complaint against Major Powell. Of course he insists upon topographical surveys, and if he did not he would be a very poor specimen of engineer.

So far as ethnology and geology are concerned, there are secondary matters, but there is no reason why they may not receive a proper share of attention from the scientific parties in the field. The whole graymen of the charges is undoubtedly found in the statement that Major Powell advised the withdrawal of possible reservoir sites and irrigable land from public entry and sale, and certain disappointed land sharks are taking this method of trying to revenge themselves for their disappointment.

As has been pointed out again and again, water storage and irrigation by peacemal is not what is needed for the reclamation of the arid public lands. There must be some general and practicable system, and it is to the devising of such a system that Major Powell has given much time and study. Possibly his plans may not be the best ones, but certainly the objection to them is not to be found in the fact that he recommends topographical surveys before any action is taken. His opponents will have to find some better ground of objection than this if they want to show his incapacity or ignorance in irrigation matters.

WHAT ON EARTH

Is the reason people will not, can not or do not see any difference in cheap nostrums put up by Cheap John houses or irresponsible parties at enormous profits, rather than take a medicine of world wide reputation and one that is giving universal satisfaction at equal price? No medicine in the world is giving such unparalleled satisfaction for purifying the blood as BEECH'S BLOOD PURIFIER AND BLOOD MAKER, and every bottle that does not do its work will cost you nothing.

Peculiar

Many peculiar points make Hood's Sarsaparilla superior to all other medicines. Peculiar in combination, proportion, and preparation of ingredients, Hood's Sarsaparilla possesses the full curative value of the best known remedies of the vegetable kingdom. Peculiar in its strength and economy—Hood's Sarsaparilla is the only medicine which can truly be said, "One Hundred Doses of One Dollar." Medicines in larger and smaller bottles require larger doses, and do not produce as good results as Hood's. Peculiar in its medicinal merits, Hood's Sarsaparilla accomplishes cures hitherto unknown, and has won for itself the title of "The greatest blood purifier ever discovered." Peculiar in its good name at home—there is now more of Hood's Sarsaparilla sold in Lowell, where it is made, than of all other blood purifiers. Peculiar in its phenomenal record of sales abroad, has no other preparation ever attained such popularity in so short a time, and retained its popularity and confidence among all classes of people so steadfastly. Do not be induced to buy other preparations, but be sure to get the Peculiar Medicine, Hood's Sarsaparilla. Sold by all druggists. $1; six for $5. Prepared only by C. L.
